

COURSE DATASHEET

Semester:	2016/17/1
Course:	Special Topics
Code:	VEMKSIB434S
Responsible department:	Institute of Materials Engineering
Department code:	MKSI
Responsible instructor:	dr. Éva Makó Kristófné Dr.

Course objectives:

Students attain knowledge in several modern research issues which include most recent scientific achievements of the institute.

Course content:

This means a special individual student's research work in a given theme, which includes the attainment of the given theoretical knowledge and the experimental work in laboratory. This research work can be used for the thesis.

Requirements, evaluation and grading:

Compulsory attendance of the practical sessions, grading is based on the essay written in the research topic.

Required and recommended readings:

Literatures related to the research work.